FREIGHT BLOCKADE TO BE OVERĈOME.

Traffic Bureau Suggests Measures by Which Congestion of Shipments May Be Relieved.

TROUBLE CAUSED BY FLOOD.

Goods to Be Removed Promptly by Consignees Upon Receipt of Advice From the Railroads.

The St. Louis Traffic Bureau, which represents the Business Men's League and Merchants' Exchange, has taken up the matter of the freight blockade in East St. Louis in a manner which promises to break the blockade and bring things back to their normal conditions at the freighthouses within

The trouble has been that the freight-handlers' strike and the flood have put both the rallways and the Terminal Association behind with the delivery of freight, and at this time, when the big houses in St. Louis are getting in their fall goods, this delay is vexatious.

The outbound freight has not been af fected, and the St. Louis houses have been able to fill their orders from customers and ship them out very promptly.

The whole subject was considered at the last meeting of the Traffic Bureau, which consists of Chairman W. P. Kennett, Vice Chairman George A. Roth, H. F. Langenberg, Edward Devoy, Murray Carleton, Frank N. Johnson and Commissioner E. S.

Commissioner Tompkins and Mr. Johnson spent the whole of Friday looking over the situation at the freighthouses and the ter-minals in East St. Louis and on this side. On their return the Traffic Bureau sent out a note to all the members of the Busi-ness Men's League and the Merchants' Ex-change, asking their hearty co-operation with the railways in relieving the blockade. The note is as follows: "A number of com-plaints have been filed with the Board of Managers relative to the blockade of freight Managers relative to the blockade of freight in East St. Louis and the delay in the delivery of this freight, which is badly needed by our merchants and manufacturers. "The matter has had the careful consideration of the Board of Managers, and after a thorough investigation they would respectfully recommend, in view of the efforts now being made by the railroads to get the delayed freight delivered, that:

being made by the railroads to get the de-layed freight delivered, that:

"All freight be removed promptly by the consignee upon receipt of advice that it has been unloaded by the railroads,

"Consignees whose freight is handled by a transfer company to arrange to accept all freight delivered at their stores before 5:30 p. m., and if they have large consign-ments on the East Side, to accept it if de-livered even later than the hour named. Notify the transfer companies if you will do so.

VERDICT EXPECTED TUESDAY. Court did not adjourn this evening until after 7 o'clock. The defense will continue the presentation of its case Monday morning, and it is thought that the arguments will begin Monday afternoon. A verdict should be reached by Tuesday at the latest. William Meyersieck, who was a member of the posse that had a fight with Collins and Rudolph in the road on the night of the killing, testified to admissions made to him by Collins. The statements made by Meyersleck referred principally to the robbery of the Union Bank and the subsequent flight of the men after the killing of Charles Schumacher. Doctor Goodrich, the County Coroner, described Schumacher's wounds, Sheriff Bruch testified regarding the appointment of Louis Vedder as a Deputy Sheriff and John Williams, an undertaker from Sullivan, identified the clothing removed from Schumacher's body after the killing.

C. P. Winn of the St. Louis Pinkerton Detective Agency testified regarding the custody of Schumacher's clothing from the time it was removed from the body until it was produced in evidence. "WE GOT THE ONE WE WANTED."

Doctor Charles F. Goodrich, Coroner of Franklin County, and George Harmes, who was present in the Rudolph house on the morning of the fight during which Schumacher was killed, were the most important witnesses introduced by the State in the morning session. Harmes described the events previous to the killing of Schumacher. He stated that he was in the blacksmith shop with Frank Rudolph when the fight occurred and that he did not return to the house until the members of Vedder's posse had left.

According to Harmes's testimony Rudolph was the one who discovered the approach of the posse. He said: "That is them, we will have to shoot our way out." The witness stated that Collins took no part in the conversation at that time. After Harmes went back to the house, he heard Rudolph say:

"We got the one we wanted." Harmes testified that Rudolph and Collins departed from the house shortly after that. The two boys departed through the bined. Prepares west door and Harmes states that he departed from the house at the same time by way of the east door.

An important fact was elicited when tion. Low expense. Harmes stated that he saw Schumacher after the shooting and that he does not think he was dead. "I am sure I could see him breathing," he declared. Benton Booth of St. Clair described the finding of Schumacher's body on the night Mound City, Ill., July 18 .- A negro thief he was killed and subsequent visits to the Rudolph house by posses of which he was a member. Edward S. McGuire, who is employed by the McGuire & Whyte detective agency of Chicago, testified along practically the same lines. ONLY ONE MORTAL WOUND. Prosecuting Attorney Meyersleck was a witness for the State. He told of finding Schumacher's body, a bloody cap, in which were several particles of brain matter, and a gold watch. The last two were found near the body. Doctor Goodrich, the county Coroner, described the wounds found by him at an examination conducted at Stanton shortly after the body was found. In reply to questions, he stated that only one of the five wounds was in what is considered a vital part of the body. In describing the wounds, Doctor Good-rich said: "I found a small hole near the bone of the skull had been depressed. On above the hip joint, one on the inner side of the same leg, another on the inner side of the right leg, and a fourth on the outer side, from which I extracted a large caliber bullet." Thomas B. Bruch, Sheriff of Franklin County, was recalled early in the afternoon session and testified regarding the appointment of Louis Vedder Deputy Sheriff, He also identified the pearl-handled revolvers given to him in Hartford, Conn., when he was there to bring Collins and Rucolph back

George S. Dougherty, assistant superintendent of the New York Pinkerton agency, briefly described the capture of Rudolph and Collins in Hartford, Conn. August W. Hoffman, cashier of the Union National Bank, identified several pieces of money that were found in the possession of Collins at the time of his arrest, CONSPIRACY RULED OUT. James M. Dawson, in charge of the fail in St. Louis, was introduced to prove that a conspiracy existed between Rudolph and Collins to escape from the jail. Attorney Schaper objected for the defense, and he was sustained by the court. Mr. Dawson was excused.

Herman Zehrt, a Union barber, testified regarding a conversation held with Col-lins, while shaving the latter yesterday. Its import was not of much consequence to the case on trial.

It was at this point that the prosecution rested its case and the defense opened by dering Charles J. Schumacher, a Pinkerton calling Jerry Campbell to the stand. The detective, by the defense announcing at 5 object of Campbell's testimony was to reclock that it would introduce witnesses at fute a statement made on the witness stand by Cromer regarding Collins's hav-ing fired a pistol at Schumacher, while the
